

MANY DIFFERENT WEAPONS

The world's supply of rare minerals has dwindled so much that the entire resources for the whole world now do not even half fill a bottle of Vimto. The world's scientific community, is becoming so fraught that it decides to have a meeting.

All the options are considered: Re-excavating abandoned mines, exploring on the other planets, advertising in the wanted column of the local paper, but nothing could be thought of. Then came the idea: Why not bob back in time to when these isotopes could be found ten a penny? Simply fire up the time machine, battle through hoards of screaming dinosaurs, Egyptians and medi-evil knights and fly back home again!

No one would be stupid enough to do that. No one that is except for Turbo, a transmogrified super tortoise, blessed with a set of mega powers but not much brain power.

"Your problems are solved" announced the quirky quadruped, anxious to please the scientists.

With that he skipped in a terrapin like way towards his fully revved up time machine.

"Wash me a lettuce leaf, I'll be back for breakfast!!"
