Sega Launches the Official Website of Extreme Hunting 2 - Tournament Edition!

Elk Grove Village, IL February 6, 2006 – Sega Amusements USA, Inc. (SAU) announces the launch of www.extremehunting.net, the source for all the info on Sega's Extreme Hunting 2 - Tournament Edition, releasing in early Summer.

About Extreme Hunting 2 - Tournament Edition

Extreme Hunting 2 - Tournament Edition is hitting the worlds of indoor hunting and coin-op with a bang. Enthusiasts of Extreme Hunting will not know what hit them when this extraordinary advancement releases this summer. Extreme Hunting 2 - Tournament Edition is the newest installment of the franchise already known for its superior scene design, true-to-life animations, and the widest variety of wild game than any of its kind. By way of Sega's ALL.Net, our online tournament platform, players can now compete with others across the nation, and join our Extreme Hunting database to enter into tournaments and track play history as well as rankings. Extreme Hunting 2 - Tournament Edition is the first U.S. title featured on ALL.Net, and is certainly not its last.

Sega holds the most successful line of coin-operated hunting games with approximately 17,000 units in the market, with roots dating back to Deer Hunter USA. The recent launch of Extreme Hunting 2 - Tournament Edition will spark yet another milestone for the company. The Tournament Edition marks the 7th pillar of the franchise that has been selling, and well at that, for 8 years and running. Not only will new and more attractive cabinets be sold, but EHTE will also be sold as a kit to those awaiting Sega's greatest hunting game yet.

Vice President Takeshi Inoue is leading the United States' ALL.Net effort for Sega Amusements USA. Inoue sees the project as a fruitful opportunity for Sega. "We are excited about this new product venture, which has the capability to link players
