GAME:

A high value banknote printers, so secure that no human guards are needed? This is too much of a challenge to pass up. The safe containing the finished banknotes is on the top floor. Each floor is booby trapped and patrolled by robot guards. A security pass is needed to enter the lift on each floor and the combination number is needed to open the safe.

Contact with a robot guard or with one of the many booby traps is fatal. Naturally, being caught under a printing press is also quite bad for your health.
