GENGHIS KHAN

MAIN MENU -

CONTROLS: To choose between keyboard or joystick.

REDEFINE: For changing the controls.

CHANGE PARAMETERS: A submenu for defining the game parameters.

START CAMPAIGN: Game menu.

CHANGE PARAMETERS -

DATE: You can choose among four different dates to begin, which determine different situations.

ARMY: You can decide the balance between soldiers and archers in your army.

ENEMY: This selects the enemy in your next battle and places it on one of the 15 territories on the map.

GAME TYPE: To choose between one of the three following: ALL: Both strategy and arcade. Victory depends on your intelligence and strength on the battle field. ARCADE: This option allows you to ransack and destroy everything in sight. STRATEGY: You only rely on your strategic capacity. There are no combats and victory is determined by the computer through statistical calculus of probabilities. MAIN MENU: For returning to the main menu.

START CAMPAIGN -

INVADE TERRITORY: Choose which territory you wish to invade.

DISPLACE WARRIORS: You can send warriors from one territory to another if they are contiguous and under your rule.

DISPLACE KHAN: Between two bordering territories only.

SEND SPY: To gather information about a territory.

RECRUITMENT Allows you to increase your army.

ABORT CAMPAIGN: Useful when things aren't going as expected.

SCOREBOARD -

At the top of the screen is the map where the battles take place The lower left hand corner has indicators corresponding to Genghis Khan's army: the enemy's figures are on the lower right hand corner During a battle the scoreboard shows how many soldiers are on each side, and the potential of each army adding up their territories.

MAP

To select territories on the map place the cursor on the corresponding icon and press fire.

THE GAME -

The aim is to make gunpowder in order to blow up the Great Wall of China and then conquer Peking. In Baghdad there is a great magician and alchemist who will reveal the five components of the formula for gunpowder. Depending on the time of the year and the position of the stars, the components will vary each time you start the game You have to conquer the five territories where the components are found and then head towards Peking.

HOW TO PLAY -

On the game menu you must select the options in order to develop your campaign. Genghis Khan's army is indicated by a red flag and you can only operate from the territory where Khan is located. You will have to displace Khan to any other territory you want to operate in. The "invade territory" and "send spy" options are only possible against bordering territories under enemy rule. ARROWS: This option allows your archers to shoot enough arrows to eliminate all the enemies on screen, but every time you do this the number of archers will decrease. BATTLE: To win a battle the enemy must surrender, which will happen if they are highly outnumbered. Or if you reach and eliminate the "guardian dragon" of the enemy you also win the battle. You can redistribute your army after conquering a new territory. RETREAT: To do this Genghis Khan has to leave the screen to the left If you use "strategy" only you can retreat by pressing any of the control keys during the battle.

TIPS -

Too many soldiers in your army will reduce sanitary conditions and produce a mortal epidemic. You have to control your territories, as the inhabitants will rebel against an oppressive army or a weak one. To check how numerous any of your armies are, place the cursor above the symbol for the territory and press fire. PC users who have programs installed in their computers may have difficulty playing If you eliminate those programs this problem will be avoided.

Genghis Khan

In the year 1167 a Mongolian warrior named Temujin was born. After a series of bloody battles he rose to power, proclaiming himself Universal Sovereign or Genghis Khan. His army was never very large, but it was extremely well organized and famous and feared throughout.
