Important Health Warning About Playing Video Games

Photosensitive seizures
A very small percentage of people may experience a seizure when exposed to certain visual images, including flashing lights or patterns that may appear in video games. Even people who have no history of seizures or epilepsy may have an undiagnosed condition that can cause these “photosensitive epileptic seizures” while watching video games.

These seizures may have a variety of symptoms, including lightheadedness, altered vision, eye or face twitching, jerking or shaking of arms or legs, disorientation, confusion, or momentary loss of awareness. Seizures may also cause loss of consciousness or convulsions that can lead to injury from falling down or striking nearby objects.

Immediately stop playing and consult a doctor if you experience any of these symptoms. Parents should watch for or ask their children about the above symptoms—children and teenagers are more likely than adults to experience these seizures. The risk of photosensitive epileptic seizures may be reduced by taking the following precautions:

• Sit farther from the screen; use a smaller screen; play in a well-lit room; do not play near bright lights.

If you or any of your relatives have a history of seizures or epilepsy, consult a doctor before playing.

ESRB Game Ratings

The Entertainment Software Rating Board (ESRB) ratings are designed to provide consumers, especially parents, with concise, impartial guidance about the age-appropriateness and content of computer and video games. This information can help consumers make informed purchase decisions about which games they deem suitable for their children and families.

ESRB ratings have two equal parts:

• Rating Symbols suggest age appropriateness for the game. These symbols appear on the front of virtually every game box available for retail sale or rental in the United States and Canada.

• Content Descriptors indicate elements in a game that may have triggered a particular rating and/or may be of interest or concern. The descriptors appear on the back of the box next to the rating symbol.

PLAYING THE GAME

TRIVIAL PURSUIT BASICS
Playing TRIVIAL PURSUIT is as easy as playing the board game. All you have to do is roll the dice, move your puck to a particular category of question, and answer a randomly selected question from that category in the time given.

QUESTION CATEGORIES
Each color on the board corresponds with a category, so learn to associate the six different colors and their respective categories.

Blue: Geography. Know your maps and locales, or lose.
Pink: Entertainment. From Hollywood to Broadway, your knowledge takes center stage.
Yellow: History. Know it or be doomed to repeat it!
Purple: Art & Literature. Get in touch with the right side of your brain.
Green: Science & Nature. Biology, chemistry, and more present a challenge to your inner scientist.
Orange: Sports & Leisure. Whether it’s the gridiron or hardwood, you’re on the hot seat for athletics and pastimes.
GAME MODES

MULTIPLAYER

When playing with one or more of your friends, two different modes are available: Classic and Facts & Friends. Each mode has its own specific rules, giving you two entirely different ways to experience the classic game.

CLASSIC

If you’re looking for the kind of TRIVIAL PURSUIT game you grew up playing, then Classic mode is the way to go. The object of the game is simple: capture each of the six wedge pieces located in the Wedge HQs by first landing on the space, and then answering the space’s question correctly. Once you’ve filled your puck with all six wedges, make your way back to Central HQ and correctly answer a question in a category chosen by the other players to win the game.

FACTS & FRIENDS

Unlike Classic mode, Facts & Friends puts points and lives on the line, making for a game filled with excitement and intensity. All players share one puck and compete for as many wedges as possible, either from a Wedge HQ or by earning four category points.

BONUS EVENTS

Because this is a Facts & Friends game, you can forget about the simple “Roll Again” spaces found on the traditional board game. In their place are Bonus Events that can significantly increase your chances of winning, but may occasionally help your opponents win. There are six different Bonus Events that you may run into:

- All or Nothing

  Like the name implies, everything is on the line. You choose a category, and if you answer the given question correctly, you automatically receive the category's wedge piece. Answer incorrectly and you lose points from one of your categories.

- Wedge Challenge

  This is just like a regular Wedge Off, only you directly challenge one of your friends who already owns a wedge. Beat them to steal the wedge!

- Double Trouble

  Everyone loves twice the points, right? Get this Bonus Event and you’ll get double the amount of points for answering a question in a category of your choice. Don’t forget that this also applies for any friends that are betting against you!

QUESTION TYPES

There are different types of questions in TRIVIAL PURSUIT, from straightforward multiple-choice to challenging map-position questions, that put your trivia expertise to the test. For all questions, press * to select what will hopefully be the correct answer.

- Sliders

  To answer questions that use sliders, press * to move the slider to the correct position and confirm your answer by pressing #. Earn four points for the correct answer and 1-3 points for close but not-quite-right responses. Sliders are available in Facts & Friends games only (see the Facts & Friends section).

- True or False

  You’ve got a 50/50 chance in getting it right. Or wrong. Hurry! True or False questions are found in Facts & Friends games only.

- Multiple Choice

  Determine the correct response and press * to select your answer and press #.

- Images

  Can you match the image with the correct answer? You’d better, or you can forget that wedge.

- Maps

  Check out the map image provided and then simply press * to select the correct spot on the map and press #.

- Maps (pin placement)

  These are similar to the multiple choice map questions. Press * to move the cursor and select where you think the correct answer is by pressing #. Rings appear after you select your answer and show how close you are to being correct. Earn 1-4 points, depending on how close you get to the center. Pin placement questions are only available in Facts & Friends games.

WEDGE OFF

It’s possible that you and another player can earn enough points to make a wedge at the same time. If this happens, a sudden-death mode known as a Wedge Off comes into play. Each of you must take turns answering True or False questions until one of you answers incorrectly. The last remaining player standing wins and earns the wedge.

NOTE:

When playing with friends, it’s best for each player to have their own controller. Still, in a pinch, you can always share one controller and pass it around on each turn.

Because this is a Facts & Friends game, you can forget about the simple “Roll Again” spaces found on the traditional board game. In their place are Bonus Events that can significantly increase your chances of winning, but may occasionally help your opponents win. There are six different Bonus Events that you may run into:

- All or Nothing

  Like the name implies, everything is on the line. You choose a category, and if you answer the given question correctly, you automatically receive the category’s wedge piece. Answer incorrectly and you lose points from one of your categories.

- Wedge Challenge

  This is just like a regular Wedge Off, only you directly challenge one of your friends who already owns a wedge. Beat them to steal the wedge!

- Double Trouble

  Everyone loves twice the points, right? Get this Bonus Event and you’ll get double the amount of points for answering a question in a category of your choice. Don’t forget that this also applies for any friends that are betting against you!
Clear the Board (Single Player)

Playing TRIVIAL PURSUIT alone can be just as fun as playing with other people! When playing a single-player game, your objective is to clear the board of category spaces by correctly answering the corresponding questions. Answering category questions successfully earns you a point multiplier in that category and removes the space from the board. Answering a question incorrectly wastes your chance to increase the multiplier. Remember that you can only attempt a space once, so make your answer count.

Rack up as many points as you can while you clear the board for the ultimate in High Score bragging rights, and compare your score with everyone else who plays on the same console in the High Score table.

You can also play Clear the Board to try and race to the fastest time. Points don’t matter when you play like this! Answer those wedge questions as fast as you can to Clear the Board. There are separate leaderboards for Fastest Time and Highest Score.

NOTE: Keep an eye open for the objectives. There are 20 objectives to achieve in Clear the Board to have a perfect record from the easy, like achieving a 5x multiplier in a category, to the nearly impossible, such as playing a perfect game.

Point Values

Each space on the board is worth a different value depending on its type. The final game-winning Central HQ question is a special case where the point value is multiplied by all of your previous category multipliers added together. If you racked up some big multipliers throughout your game, prepare yourself for a massive point multiplier. If you answer the final question wrong, though, your multiplier drops by one each time you guess incorrectly until you hit zero or get the question right.

- Normal Space: 200 points
- Wedge HQ: 500 points
- Central HQ: 1000 points (x multiplier)

NOTE: If you incorrectly answer a question on a Wedge HQ or Central HQ a normal space from that category is marked as incorrectly answered. You must then move to a new space before attempting to answer the question again.

HINTS AND TIPS

✓ In Clear the Board, if you’re going for a Fastest Time, try to get your best category wedge first. This shrinks the board quickly and makes it faster to get to the next wedge square.
