The Aim of the Game

Alien Kill is a relatively simple game. All you have to do is to assassinate the alien at the top of the screen. You are at the bottom armed with a Magnum Laser which punches holes in the wall (gaining points as you go).

However, the alien has its own protection -a solid Tungstidium Barrier which often saves it.

Secondly, there is a row of white aliens which can withstand two blasts of your Laser (they turn black when hit once). Finally time is on the alien's side because your time is limited, so don't spend too much time smashing the bricks in the wall.

The time left is indicated by a white line at the base of the screen.

The Alien is worth 1000 points.

Three levels of difficulty: easy, hard and impossible.

Controls

X - to move Left
C - to move Right
Space - to fire
